Dr Alison K. Hazelbaker, PhD, IBCLC, FILCA, CST, RCST

Dr. Hazelbaker maintains a private practice in Columbus, Ohio. She has been a La Leche League Leader for over 30 years and a practicing lactation consultant for nearly 30 years. She incorporates her special training in Cranio-Sacral Therapy and Lymphatic Drainage

Therapy into her lactation practice. She authored the 'Assessment Tool for Lingual Frenulum Function' and invented the Hazelbaker(TM) FingerFeeder. She is one of the few lactation consultants who earned a graduate degree in human lactation (Masters). Dr. Hazelbaker also holds a doctorate in Psychology, specialising in Energetic and Transformational Healing.

Dr David Todd, FIMLS, MSc, PhD, MBBS, CCPU

David is Senior Lecturer at the Australian National University Medical School, and CMO in the Department of Neonatology at the Centenary Hospital for Women and Babies in Canberra, Australia. He has been working in Neonatology for 33 years first as a scientist obtaining a MSc and PhD in Neonatal respiratory physiology and pathology and then studying medicine to qualify in 1999. His main areas of interests are 1) infant ventilation and the development of the newborn lung, 2) retinopathy of prematurity and 3) infant nutrition including breastfeeding and the treatment of tongue-tie in problematic breastfeeding. He was first trained to divide tongue-ties in Southampton UK in 1999 and then on returning to Westmead Hospital in Sydney in 2002 started up the practice of tongue-tie division there. He moved to Canberra in 2006 and has been treating babies with tongue-tie and breastfeeding difficulties since that time.

Dr Kathleen Kendall-Tackett, Ph.D., IBCLC, FAPA

Dr. Kendall-Tackett is a health psychologist, an International Board Certified Lactation Consultant, and the owner and Editor-in-Chief of Praeclarus Press, a small press focusing on women's health. Dr. Kendall-Tackett is a Fellow of the American Psychological Association in both the Divisions of Health and Trauma Psychology, and Editor-in-Chief of Clinical Lactation. Dr. Kendall-Tackett is author of more than 320 journal articles, book chapters and other publications, and author or editor of 22 books in the fields of trauma, women's health, depression, and breastfeeding. She is a founding officer of the American Psychological Association's Division of Trauma Psychology, and is currently President-Elect.

She has won several awards including the Outstanding Research Study Award from the American Professional Society on the Abuse of Children, and was named Distinguished Alumna, College of Behavioral and Social Sciences, California State University, Chico. She received the 2011 John Kennell and Marshall Klaus Award for Excellence in Research from DONA International, and the Community Faculty Award from the Department of Pediatrics, Texas Tech University School of Medicine. Her websites are www.uppitysciencechick.com, www.breastfeedingmadesimple.com, www.kathleenkendall-tackett.com, and www.praeclaruspress.com.

Alison Baum, MA, MSc

Alison Baum is the CEO and Founder of Best Beginnings, which she set up in 2006 as a catalyst for change to radically reduce child health inequalities in the UK. Best Beginnings works collaboratively, innovatively and from the evidence base to help parents make positive healthcare choices and enable professionals to support those choices. Using her leadership and executive production experience from her days at the BBC, Alison has pioneered the development of innovative resources including DVDs, art and mobile apps to support the emotional and physical transition to parenthood. Before setting up Best Beginnings, Alison was a producer and director for the BBC. She made science and health programmes such as Horizon and Animal Hospital and played a key role in the BBC internal change programme. Alison has an MA from Oxford University in Pure and Applied Biology and an MSc from UCL in Neuroscience.

Jennifer Tow, BFA, IBCLC

Jennifer practices Holistic Lactation. Currently residing in Paris, she was in private practice for 12 years in CT, prior to which she coordinated a hospital-based peer counselor program. Through Intuitive Parenting Network, LLC and Intuitive Health Network, Jennifer relies on her

22 years of passionate information-gathering, education and training in holistic practices to provide holistic lactation consulting, parent education and mentoring to families. She offers workshops to parents and health care providers on topics related to infant feeding, attachment and holistic practices. She focuses on healing infant trauma, the inter-dependent relationship between maternal and infant gut health and the synergy of maternal-infant physiology, form and function, including tongue-tie. Having established a reputation for working with parents to resolve complex problems, Jennifer works with clients internationally, primarily through Skype. She integrates a myriad of holistic modalities, such as nutrition, herbs, home remedies and energy medicine in her work.

Dr Thomas Hale, PhD

Dr. Hale is Professor of Pediatrics and Associate Dean of Research at Texas Tech University School of Medicine. He is the founder and director of the InfantRisk Center, a national call center for pregnant and breastfeeding mothers. He holds degrees in Pharmacy and a Ph.D. in Pharmacology and Toxicology and is widely experienced in Pediatric and Breastfeeding Clinical Pharmacology.

He is a well-known international lecturer in the pharmacology of lactation and is the author of five books including: Medications and Mothers' Milk, the top-selling drug reference manual in the world. His other books include Textbook of Human Lactation; Clinical Therapy in Breastfeeding Women; and Drug Therapy and Breastfeeding. He is considered by many to be one of the world's leading authorities in the use of medications in breastfeeding women.

President’s Invitation

It is my pleasure to invite you to NZLCA’s 2014 Seminar Series.

We have three separate days of amazing speakers – all experts in their field, and all who will facilitate our thinking about application to practice. Our clinical forum is for those wishing to learn more about the actual processes and pathways of tongue-tie recognition, assessment, referral and audit. To hear Alison Hazelbaker teach how to use her assessment tool correctly is a wonderful opportunity. Participants will come away from this day with a greater ability to make skilled assessments and refer to the right person, at the right time, for the right reasons.

The other two days of the series provide an array of some of the most popular speakers in the field of BFHI, breastfeeding and lactation. What a joy it is to bring them to NZ on your behalf. Enjoy!

Bev Pownall – President NZLCA
